

Panel Discussion on Power Dynamics and Racism in Academia

MARCH 25TH 2021 - 7:00PM TO 8:30PM

WHO: ANYONE WHO IS INTERESTED

WHERE: ONLINE ON MICROSOFT TEAMS

WHEN: MARCH 25TH 2021 7PM-8:30PM

Academic culture is characterized by instances of racism, e.g., in teaching, research, appointment policies, access opportunities, assessments, scholarships, competency expectations and the history of many disciplines as well as prejudices, systemic inequalities, power dynamics and overt acts of racist aggression and discrimination.

In our panel discussion between students, lecturers and staff members of color, we want to engage in a (self-) critical reflection on how racism manifests itself in everyday academic life. We want to discuss institutionalized racism within the German university system with a closer look at the Karlshochschule itself and discuss proposals on how they can be reduced.

Your voice creates more awareness,
let's talk about racism!
